

CENTRE FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING

Vision, values and mission

Vision

Our vision is to be a transformative leader in teaching excellence, empowering educators to explore and deliver impactful learning experiences. We are dedicated to a growth-oriented, developmental approach that aligns with MacEwan's educational priorities and is grounded in scholarship. Through diverse pathways and a commitment to evolving practices, we aim to develop transformative educators who shape the educational landscape.

Values

- Scholarship: Demonstrates a commitment to grounding practices in evidence-based research and continuous learning, fostering a scholarly approach to teaching.
- Leadership: Guiding and inspiring educators in teaching excellence.
- Growth: Emphasizes development, progress, and continuous improvement.
- Creativity: Embracing fresh ideas and methods to enhance teaching practices.
- Community: Building a supportive network among educators and stakeholders.
- Empowerment: Enabling educators to explore and implement impactful learning.
- Adaptability: Continuously evolving to meet current and future educational needs. Excellence: Committing to high standards in teaching and educational development.

Mission

Our mission is to advance pedagogical practice at MacEwan by providing foundational instructional skills development, coaching, building communities, and developing educational leadership. We take a scholarly approach to teaching, applying contemporary, evidence-based research in developing programs and resources. Growth-oriented and responsive to the diverse needs of academics, our services are designed to meet faculty at every stage of their development, promoting transformative and lasting impact on teaching excellence.
